Description

Built in 1925, this 4 bedroom, 2 bath Farmhouse stands out for what it actually offers space, structure, and character that hasn't been stripped away.
Inside, you'll find original hardwood flooring in select areas, a central staircase with original woodwork, and a layout that feels intentional--not pieced together. The main level features two separate sitting areas, including one with tall ceilings, a striking fireplace, and an abundance of windows that bring in natural light throughout the day.
The second sitting room creates a clear opportunity for a main-level primary suite. With an adjoining flex space and a full updated bathroom already in place, the layout supports an easy transition into a private suite with room for a custom walk-in closet or office. Laundry is also conveniently located nearby.

The kitchen is fully functional with generous square footage and a layout that hasn't been overworked. It offers the kind of space that can be transformed into a true focal point without having to undo someone else's design choices. Upstairs, three additional bedrooms provide comfortable, usable space, supporting the full 4-bedroom layout without compromise.
Over time, key improvements have been completed, including plumbing and interior updates, allowing the home to move forward while still holding onto its original structure. This isn't a quick flip--it's a home that's been maintained and improved with room left for the next owner to make it their own.
Located along Highway 93 in Fall Branch, the property offers a balance of accessibility and a quieter setting. The approximately 0.34-acre lot provides manageable outdoor space, consistent with the area's history of larger tracts being thoughtfully divided over time. Just 25 minutes to Johnson City and Kingsport, 10 minutes to Gray, and 20 minutes to Jonesborough, with convenient access to major interstates, the location supports both daily commuting and long-term value.
