Information deemed reliable but not guaranteed.

Unlike many mountain and lake properties where challenging terrain can complicate construction, Lot 4 features favorable topography that allows for a variety of home designs, including the potential for expansive outdoor living spaces and a walk-out lower level. Utilities are available, including electric and fiber internet, making the property equally suited for a full-time residence, vacation home, or investment property.

Eagle Bay was thoughtfully designed to preserve both natural beauty and long-term value, offering gated entry, paved roads, underground utilities, and architectural standards that help maintain the integrity of the community. Owners enjoy access to the private marina, boat ramp, lakeside fire pits, picnic areas, and beach area. Boat slips may be available for lease through Eagle Bay Marina & Beach Club, providing convenient access to one of the cleanest lakes in the country, where approximately 85% of the shoreline is protected by the Cherokee National Forest.

Short-term rentals are permitted, creating additional flexibility for owners seeking income-producing potential. There is no required timeframe to build, allowing buyers the freedom to enjoy the property now while planning for the future.

Conveniently located less than an hour from both Boone, North Carolina and Johnson City, Tennessee, Eagle Bay offers easy access to dining, shopping, wineries, hiking trails, ski resorts, and endless outdoor recreation. Whether your ideal day includes boating, fishing, paddleboarding, hiking the Appalachian Trail, or simply enjoying the peaceful lake views from your future porch, Lot 4 provides an exceptional setting to create a lasting mountain-lake lifestyle.
