Description

Step back in time with this truly unique historic cabin! Built more than 200 years ago from giant logs harvested in the North Carolina Smokies, this remarkable cabin was carefully reassembled at its current location in 1982. The original stone fireplace mantle, crafted from locally gathered stones, stands as a beautiful focal point in the living room. Nestled in a peaceful, private setting, this rustic cabin is full of character and charm. Sit on the porch and listen to the soothing sound of the ever-flowing creek while enjoying the songs of birds and watching deer and turkey pass through. The attractive front and side yards lead to a pleasant walking path through the woods and down to the creek. Behind the cabin, the wooded mountain rises steeply toward rocky ledges, offering an adventurous challenge for those who enjoy exploring the outdoors. A spring-fed setting and natural surroundings create the perfect atmosphere for a quiet mountain retreat. The cabin is in good condition and features a NEW METAL ROOF, while some routine maintenance should be expected with a historic property of this age. The first floor offers a comfortable living room, a full bathroom with tub/shower and laundry, and a separate kitchen located just across the breezeway. Upstairs is a large open room with a convenient half bath.

Adding even more value and potential, a SECOND HOME is included with the sale. This home has been gutted down to the studs and is ready for the new owners to finish according to their own vision. Whether used as a second residence, guest home, rental, or additional family space, it offers an exciting opportunity to create something of your own. With its rich history, original character, mountain setting, flowing creek, abundant wildlife, and the added potential of a second home, this one-of-a-kind property is truly an historic gem!
