Description

First time ever offered on the market! Step in and continue a family tradition. This charming 3-bedroom, 1-bath farmhouse sits on over 19 acres of beautiful, mostly level land and offers the kind of setting that's getting harder and harder to find.

From the moment you arrive, there's something special about this property. The classic farmhouse has a welcoming front porch made for a porch swing, along with a great back porch where you can slow down and enjoy country living. Throughout the property, you'll find beautiful mountain views, open acreage, and plenty of room to spread out.

The property includes a large barn and additional farm structures, providing endless possibilities for livestock, gardening, crops, equipment, or simply enjoying your own piece of East Tennessee countryside. With over 19 acres, the property may also qualify for Tennessee Greenbelt agricultural classification, subject to applicable requirements.

And the possibilities don't stop there. Live in the existing farmhouse just as it is, renovate it into your own country retreat, or enjoy it while you build your forever home elsewhere on the property and potentially keep the farmhouse as an investment or rental. With this much usable land and multiple potential uses, you can truly make this property your own.

All of this comes in a super-convenient location while still offering the peaceful farm setting, open space, mountain scenery, and character so many buyers are looking for.
