Description

Situated in a beautiful rural setting along Rose Road in Max Meadows, Virginia, this historic brick church offers a rare opportunity to continue a longstanding tradition of worship in Wythe County. Bearing a date of approximately 1890 on its exterior, the building retains much of its historic character and many original architectural features.

The sanctuary is remarkably well-equipped, complete with traditional wooden pews, hymnals, an organ, and numerous other furnishings associated with its years of service as a place of worship. These surviving elements contribute to the building's historic atmosphere and offer a wonderful opportunity for a congregation seeking an established and character-filled place to call home.

Surrounded by the peaceful countryside of Southwest Virginia, the property enjoys a picturesque rural setting while remaining conveniently accessible to Max Meadows, Wytheville, and the surrounding communities.

Please note: The property is subject to a deed restriction requiring its continued use as a church. Prospective purchasers should review the deed restrictions to ensure their intended use complies with the property's requirements.

With its historic brick architecture, traditional sanctuary, and beautiful setting, this property presents a unique opportunity to preserve and continue the legacy of a cherished rural house of worship.
